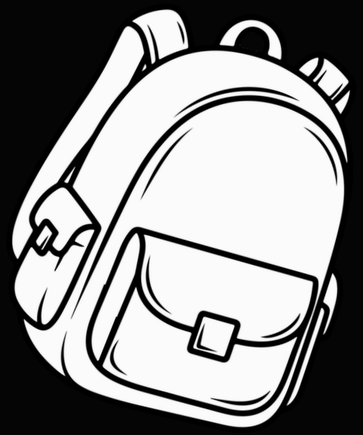
why we chose this topic...

Our parents are busy so they can't alawais come and get but sometimes we just want to go out after school without really planning where to go or when to go home.

The issue is MANY TIMES we were left without a ride and had to wander alone, tired, with the backpack, calling people until we found somone available to give us a lift...



why we chose this topic...

We’ve been going to school toghether for three years now,
We bonded over bad grades and insults to the teachers.

We started hanging out at the end of the 1st year, but ever since the beginning we had issues with meeting up and going back home.

We both live discreetly far from the school and If we were to go from one’s house to another’s it would take around 40' by car.

how we divided the tasks...

At first Alessandro begun things without Irina.
Then we started stong together, asking each other for opinions and confirmations, trying new things and challenging the other with requests trying to make our idea come to life.

how we divided the tasks...

Alessandro thought of the design of the main page and Irina of the about us page.

All throughout we worked as a team, sometimes failing but laughing about it toghether and not letting it take us down.
